Subject: RE: PLT strategic overview for OPS Command

I like this. There seems to be a general misunderstanding of the PLT role and how our info is being used. I'm still concerned about our logs and how they will be used. I know for a fact that many in OPS Upper Command have no understanding of the Framework and application so this will surely help.

At ground level for our guys assigned 1:1 with theirs now – I've tasked Ian and Andrew to more assertively guide them into zones with assigned priority locations for outreach and zone/group specific messaging that I believe the core convoy leadership are ready to assist with leveraging. I equate this to a delicate dance and we are not leading – very difficult. Biggest issue has been their upper levels impeding us from working the program. I witnessed a big directional change in past 2 days down there. Our guys giving their guys confidence to tune out noise and be more proactive.

Thanks for you help + support Marcel. Our side of all the highways, convoys was the easy piece. I've been beating my head against a brick wall for a week on the city side. Peter Collins and his re-org of our programs to replace PLT with CN's need to leave.

Thanks
Di

Subject: PLT strategic overview for OPS Command

Good morning and happy Sunday,

Attached is a document I will be giving to OPS command to hopefully better assist them in managing this event and hopefully develop some inroads in empowering the OPS PLT program to be utilized more effectively. The PDF is an arrest script from the BC RCMP surrounding the Trans Mountain arrests.

Thank you Leslie for putting the bones of the strategy together for me yesterday I would never have been able to do it on my own. If anyone has any questions comments or concerns with this please identify them and let me know. Leslie I did screw up a bit of formatting and can't seem to fix it, please fix that before I send as well.

I'd like to have this to OPS command before Mike Acton and I transition this afternoon.

Many thanks,

Insp. Marcel Beaudin
